

A project in the field of “Study on Production and Characterization of Biodiesel Derived from Plant and Animal Origin” by Srikanth HV from the Aeronautical Engineering Department was successfully conducted. The highlight of this project is results are within the ASTM 6751 standard.